

Our audio-guided programs are designed to run throughout the entire school year in 10-minute daily segments. Each semester series of 90 recordings is available on any networked device including a classroom computer or a smart phone. Each day, the classroom teacher plays a recording during a normal transition time (beginning of the school day or right after recess or lunch, for example), so it doesn't impact the overall curriculum. The students and teacher listen to the recording and participate in the 2-minute journaling integration exercise at the end, which is included in the 10 minutes.
